

Notes NWQ Study Committee
August 12, 2009

Attending: Palmer, Gadson, Hefner
Public: Thompson, Weidner, Lewis, Budds
Mayor Keyserling
Donna Alley, Staff

Palmer: Thank you to Garrett Budds for the excellent report on Form Base Codes.

Budds: This is a start.

Thompson: I am working on an outline and a narrative for the presentation to Council. My goal is to take all of the different outlines and come up with something that we can all agree on. The five key points include preservation, redevelopment, HRB/process, neighborhood and finance.

Gadson: I am working on a one page summary of the history of the NWQ. There is much that has already been written so it will not be difficult to come up with a good overview. We all need to remember that there is a whole lot "good" about Beaufort.

Thompson: Would it be possible for us to meet next Tuesday at the Friend's Room and try to bring this presentation to a conclusion? I will let everyone know the time, etc. We might need to meet on Wednesday and Thursday as well, depending on how much we accomplish on Tuesday.

Lewis: I have provided a revised outline to Evan.

Thompson: Could Naomi help with putting all of our maps into a similar scale?

Lewis: I will be returning to college on August 21, so I will need to get everything soon in order to help with the presentation.

Hefner: We still do not have new models of contemporary houses that would be appropriate for the NWQ. Also, the tall poles is still an issue with the neighborhood.

Palmer: Is there a map of the exact location of these poles?

Alley: The only map is on the City's main web page. I believe that only shows the coordinates/path. The entire report is there for public review. Also, there is a presentation board in the lobby of City Hall that gives information about the appearance of the poles.

Palmer: While this is an unfortunate issue, but I am afraid that we will have to move along with our mission and not get bogged down on this one issue.
